

Behaviour Support Services

Your approved specialist NDIS provider

The Austin Health ABI Behaviour Consultancy is renowned for its specialist work in Positive Behaviour Support for people living with a disability. The ABI Behaviour Consultancy is now an approved specialist provider of behaviour and therapeutic supports under Austin Health NDIS services.

Positive Behaviour Support is an approach to preventing behavioural problems through training new skills and adapting environments that tend to trigger these. The ABI Behaviour Consultancy puts participants and their support networks at the heart of everything they do.

Our neuropsychologists have extensive experience in acquired brain injury and other brain disorders together with additional expertise in supporting participants with coexisting mental health concerns.

Support is offered when behaviour puts limits on the life participants want to live. At the ABI Behaviour Consultancy our participants experience the latest evidence based supports and as part of one of the largest health services in Victoria, participants can expect the highest standards of accountability and professionalism.
